A PRIZE WINNER MADE FROM RUNT

THAT WAS FIRST EXPERIENCE
OF EDWIN T. MEREDITH
NEW SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE

By the Associated Press
DES MOINES, Ia., Feb. 12.—Raising a runt pig into a prize winning animal was the first experience of Edwin T. Meredith, publisher and business man, nominated by President Wilson to be secretary of agriculture. The pig was given Mr. Meredith by his father, then a store keeper, when the family lived near Atlantic, Iowa. Mr. Meredith was 13 years old at the time. His father told him if he raised the pig he could have the profits. He raised the animal into a big, healthy hog. Later the Meredith family moved to a farm near Marne, Ia. It was here the young man received his first actual experience in farming. When 19 years old young Meredith came to Des Moines to continue his schooling. He paid his board to his grandfather. Thomas Meredith, with money earned by odd jobs, while attending Highland Park college.

Thomas Meredith published the Farmers' Tribune, a political paper, and young Meredith when 21 years old, went to work for his grandfather at $8 a week. The grandfather decided to sell the paper, and it was purchased by Mr. Meredith and a printer. The printer partner soon sold out and Mr. Meredith became the sole owner of The Farmers' Tribune. In October, 1902 the name of the publication was changed to Successful Farming. The first edition of Successful Farming contained sixteen pages. The February edition this year contains 273 pages of reading matter. A number of other magazines are published under his direction.

Mr. Meredith is a Democrat and in 1916 was defeated for Governor of Iowa by W. L. Harding, Republican.

It Is Simpson's Now Instead of Surprise Store

Announcement is made today that the mercantile firm heretofore known as the Surprise Store has been changed to Simpson's. This business has been built and is owned entirely by R. W. Simpson, and it has been built around his personality. It is fitting as well as in keeping with the trend of the times for the business to have his name. Then, too, there are more than two hundred stores over the state operating under the name of The Surprise Store, with Mr. Simpson has no connection. He is anxious that they be not confused. The name of the "Surprise Store" was used by Mr. Simpson for the first time in Oklahoma and the fifth in the United States. This business was established in 1903, a small racket store occupying only a few square feet. By treating every one equally by being above board in all his dealings, by employing only the best clerks, and by establishing the reputation for strict honesty, Mr. Simpson has built the business to be one of the best in the state. It is now handling goods both retail and wholesale quantities, and is one of the best known firms in southwestern Oklahoma. Mr. Simpson's policy has always been that of best service. He has a high conception of a merchant's duty to the community, commercially, socially and religiously. Carrying out this policy, he has proved by his accomplishment that the policy is right.

Americans Married to German Girls Given Orders to Come Home

By the Associated Press
COBLEN, Feb. 12.—250 soldiers of the American forces in Germany who have married European girls have been instructed to start soon for America with their wives, in accordance with a recent order of Major General Henry P. Allen in command. About 200 soldiers have married German girls since the American forces reached the Rhine, the others included in the order having married French girls or young women from Belgium or Luxembourg.

ARMY REGIMENTS WITHIN OKLAHOMA

Oklahoma now has a certain definite part of the Regular Army which she can call "her own". This consists of the following regiments: 1. 23rd Infantry—Colonel H. A. Eaton, Commanding—is a part of the Second Division and is now at Camp Travis, Texas. 2. 14th Cavalry—Colonel R. A. Brown commanding—is now at Fort Sam Houston, Texas. 3. 15th Field Artillery—Colonel J. R. Davis commanding—is now at Camp Travis, Texas, and is a part of the Second Division. 4. 2nd Engineers—Colonel Edgerton commanding—is a part of the Second Division and is now at Camp Travis, Texas. These regiments were allocated to Oklahoma for recruiting purposes. With their personnel composed of Oklahoma men, quite naturally the people of the state will begin to get interested in these regiments and will want to know where they are and what they are doing. This will bring the people and Army in close touch with each other. Gradually they will look upon these regiments as Oklahoma's "own"—they may even call them the Oklahoma "Wampus Cats"—they are all quite famous regiments, too, by the way. Incidentally three of these regiments wore an Indian Head in the war. Anything significant about that?

WAGE DEMANDS TO PRESIDENT

HINES AND EMPLOYEES FAILING TO AGREE LAY THE MATTER IN THE HANDS OF WILSON

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—President Wilson will have a personal conference tomorrow with three representatives of the railroad brotherhood to discuss the wage demands of the two million railroad employees which are to be referred to him today by Director General Hines. In making the announcement Secretary Tumulty said it has not been decided which of the brotherhood representatives would be invited to the White House. This, he added, would be left to Mr. Hines. The union leaders will see the President on the south lawn of the White House where Mr. Wilson spends a portion of each morning. Before meeting the brotherhood officials, the President will study in detail the reports on wage scales which Mr. Hines will submit through Mr. Tumulty. The Director General was in consultation with Mr. Tumulty this morning and then returned to his office to complete his memorandum for the President who will be asked to make the final decision on the demands presented by the workers nearly a year ago.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Disposition of the wage demands of more than 2,000,000 employees today were in the hands of President Wilson. Decision to lay the matter before the President was made late yesterday after Director General Hines and representatives of the employees had failed to reach an agreement.

Statements settling forth the views of both sides in the controversy are giving the reason why the union demands an immediate increase in wages and the other explaining why Director General Hines could not agree to such an increase on the eve of the turning back of the railroads to private ownership were in the course of preparation. His meeting and will be presented to the President.

It will how much time the president will require in considering the statement is problematical, but it is believed that it will be short. Whether he upholds the views of Mr. Hines or decides that the demand of the employees are just and should be granted, the opinion was expressed that settlement will be made through the machinery to be set up by legislation now pending which will govern the roads preparatory to their return to their former owners. As prepared for presentation to the White House the statement did not include the separate claims of the brotherhood of railway trainmen, and Mr. Hines arranged to confer further today with W. G. Lee, president of that organization. Likewise Mr. Hines will confer with a committee representing the wage employees whose offices have called a strike to become effective Feb. 17.

"CARRY ON"

"With malice towards none, with charity for all; with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in; to bind up the nations wounds, to care for him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow and his orphan—to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations."
Lincoln.

Alaska Will Ask the Congress for Five Big Legislative Measures

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 12.—Five big items are on the list of legislative enactments Alaska is going to ask Congress, Governor Thomas Riggs, Jr., of Alaska said here recently when he passed through en route to the national capital to present the northern territory's request to Washington.

The five items are: Grant a bonus to gold miners. Alaskans claim that everything has gone up in price except gold, itself, and prospectors will not search for the metal unless it will buy more for them.

Pass the pending oil and coal leasing bill. Passage of the bill, it is claimed, will enable development of Alaska's oil fields.

Open the national forest reserves for pulp mills. Billions of feet of good pulp wood stand on Alaska's two big forest reserves. Pulp and paper men will not establish mills on the reserve, however, until laws are passed which would give them title to the land.

Regulate the salmon industry. Alaska's big industry, salmon fishing, is rapidly becoming a thing of the past and unless the fishing is conserved, the silver horde of the north will be gone within a few years, it is claimed.

Establish a federal constabulary. Alaska wants a federal constabulary on the order of the state police of Pennsylvania. At present a few United States marshals have the big task of preserving peace in almost the entire northland.

Indians Give Ponies Toward Purchase of Memorial to Sioux

FORT YATES, N. D., Feb. 11.—Ponies are being received from individual Indians as donations toward the Standing Rock Memorial hall, which, when erected, will commemorate the deeds of Sioux in the world war. Fifteen head already are picked as subscriptions to the fund. It is estimated sale of these will bring the present total contributions of $850 up to $1,200. In case where an Indian has no funds to spare he or she is allowed to give a pony or as many ponies as desired, according to Eugene Means, treasurer of the Memorial Hall association. It has been decided to erect a concrete building. The purpose of the structure is to be commemorative of both white and Indian soldiers of Carson and Sioux counties, both of which are within the boundaries of Standing Rock reservation. It is planned to place in the building an enlarged photograph of every soldier, with an individual history attached to each. A memorial slab is contemplated for those who fell in battle.

Will Attempt to Elect Workers to Political Offices Says Leader

By the Associated Press
ST. LOUIS, Feb. 12.—With the object of electing laborers to political office, H. B. Perham of this city former vice president of the Federation of Labor and past president of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, has established the "Workingmen's Political Information Bureau." The bureau's slogan is "Send the working people to Congress," and Mr. Perham explained the bureau would strive to foster political constructiveness. It will be nonpartisan, he emphasized.

Mr. Perham deplored the preponderance of lawyers in Congress, and said the bureau would work to replace them with laborers.

Government to Keep Close Check on Sale Of Lemon Extracts

By the Associated Press
JUNCTION CITY, Kan., Feb. 12.—Government agents will keep a close check on the amount of lemon extract sold by retail grocers, dealers here have been informed by Warren S. Wilson, chief federal prohibition inspector for Kansas. The dealers are advised that sales must be made for culinary purposes only, and that in case it is found that purchasers use it for beverage, the dealers are likely to be involved. The same regulations are applied to Jamaica ginger.

It is pointed out that it is impossible to "denature" extracts with tarter emetic, as is being done in spirituous concoctions which are not ordinarily internal uses, such as bar rum, liquid shoe polish and face lotions.

RAILROAD BILL IS NOW READY

DESIRE IS TO PASS RAILROAD LEGISLATION BEFORE THE ROADS ARE RETURNED TO OWNERS.

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—While some opposition to the railroad bill as finally agreed upon in conference, has developed, senate and house leaders predicted today that the conference report on the measure would be promptly adopted so that legislation could be on the statute books before the railroads are returned to private control on March 1st.

The final draft of the conference report in snow being made and it will be presented to the senate Saturday or Monday. The house expects to take up the report Monday or Tuesday at the latest, and leaders said today it would be disposed of in two days.

Chairman Esch of the house interstate commerce committee was one of the authors of the railroad bill and other leaders expressed confidence that opposition by house democrats would not delay progress of the measure. Senate provisions to which there is objection, including the anti-strike provision, creating of a transportation board and compulsory consolidation, were stricken out in conference. The essential addition to the house bill was the fixing of a guaranteed return of five and one-half per cent.

Delegates Should Be Selected Now to Ponca City Meeting

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 12.—Only a few days remain before the League of Young Democrats hold their annual convention at Ponca City, Oklahoma, and those counties who have yet to select their delegates to attend, should at once meet and select representatives that will take part in this convention. Ponca City is making great plans to entertain the delegates at this convention, and Democrats of Kay County which has always been a Republican county report that a large attendance at this convention with the enthusiasm that generally prevails, will start their campaign to control that county at the next election. Each county is entitled to send one delegate for each one hundred votes cast for Secretary of State at the last election, and it is to be hoped that full delegation, composed of both men and women, are selected and sent to take a part in the deliberations of this growing organization. Joe Miller, of the famous 101 Ranch, is Chairman of the entertainment committee, and it is reported that delegates will be entertained at his Ranch and will be treated to "Buffalo Steak." BE THERE!

The Chamber of Commerce membership campaign will start next Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock. Let everybody be ready when the workers call.

SUFFRAGETTES IN LAST MEET

TWO THOUSAND SUFFRAGISTS FROM EVERY PART OF THE UNION FLOOD CHICAGO
TODAY

By the Associated Press
CHICAGO, Feb. 12.—Two thousand suffragists from every part of the United States today arrived here as delegates and visitors to the final and victory convention of the National American Woman Suffrage association which will continue through next Wednesday. This is the fifty-first annual meet of the suffragists of the country, and many were the comments at the opening session this morning of the difference between the present day, with scores of women of fashion registered as accredited delegates, and the long ago days of the first convention, when delegates reported their struggles in encountering greetings of cabbages and bad eggs dashed at the platforms from which they spoke.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the national suffrage body, presided at closed executive sessions of the national board of directors, held all day, and tomorrow will formally call the convention to order. Today's sessions were devoted to the discussion of questions of vital importance to women as citizens and voters. The subject of these all-day conferences were child welfare, the protection of women in industry, the legal status of women, American citizenship, social hygiene and food supply and demand. Those presiding over the conferences were respectively Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker of Austin, Tex., Mrs. Raymond Robins of Chicago, Mrs. Catherine Waugh McCulloch of Chicago, Mrs. Frederick P. Bagley of Boston, Mass., Dr. Valeria H. Parker of Hartford, Conn., and Mrs. Edward P. Costigan of Washington, D. C.

Among the authorities of national note who are in Chicago to address these conferences and the dinners this evening that will follow the conferences are Miss Julia Lathrop, chief of the federal children's bureau; Judge Ben Lindsey of Denver.

WILSON IN NEXT CABINET MEETING

PRESIDENT NOW ABLE TO AT-TEND CABINET MEETINGS AND WILL PRESIDE AT THE NEXT ONE

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The next meeting of the cabinet will be called and presided over by President Wilson.

Secretary Lansing who has been issuing the calls for the meetings for several months said today he had written cabinet officers that there would be no more regular sessions of the President's official family for the present. He would offer no explanation, but it was understood that his letter was written by direction of Mr. Wilson.

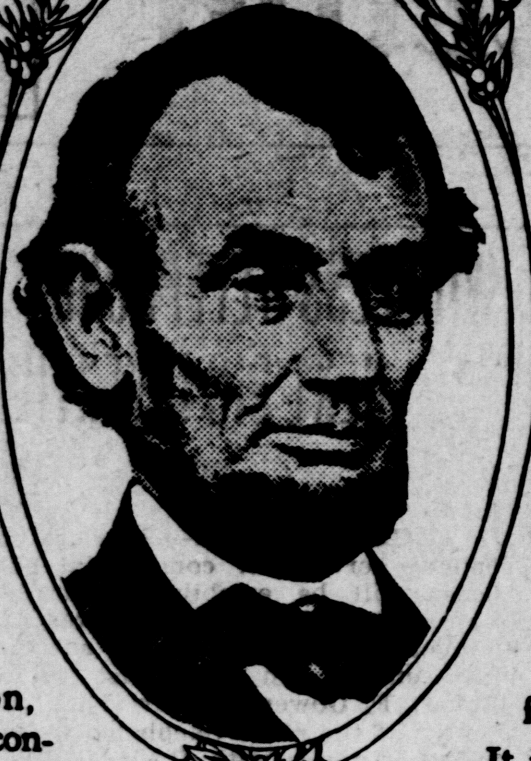

Throughout the President's illness the cabinet has met weekly and when the coal strike became acute meetings were increased from one to two weekly. There was no meeting yesterday and none will be held tomorrow.

For several weeks now the president has been taking more and more of a hand in the conduct of official business. Secretary Tumulty said today he had never seen Mr. Wilson looking better.

Philadelphia Mayor Will Keep Away from All Banquets He Says

By the Associated Press
PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 11.—Mayor J. Hampton Moore, in times past one of Philadelphia's most persistent banqueters, has decided to keep away from feasts during the term of office he has just begun. As Representative Moore he was much in demand as an after-dinner speaker. He was one of the organizers and the chief spirit of the Five O'clock Club, a famous dining organization. But since he became Mayor Moore the demand for his attendance at banquets has tripled. One evening recently he attended five of these functions, remaining at each one long enough to make a speech. This experience led him to announce that public business is increasing to such an extent that he is obliged to decline almost all invitations for speeches at night. "They are kindly intended, but there is a limit to physical endurance," the mayor said.

1809 LINCOLN 1865

Fourscore and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal.

Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated can long endure.

We are met on a great battlefield of that war, we have come to dedicate a portion of that field as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this, but, in a larger sense we cannot dedicate—we cannot consecrate—we cannot hallow—this ground. The brave men living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us, the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced.

It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion; that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain; that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom; and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

GETTYSBURG, NOVEMBER 19, 1863

MEMORIES OF LINCOLN'S DAY

Told by One Who Was Acquainted With the Great Emancipator and His Opponent, Douglas.

MRS. JOHN LYMAN CHILD, who is eighty-two years old, knew Lincoln personally, heard Lincoln and Douglas debate, has a store of interesting incidents connected with her father-in-law, an ardent Abolitionist, as well as tales of her father, who served as adjutant-general of Illinois.

Mrs. Child's maiden name was Mary Ellen Anderson. She was born and reared near Springfield, lived in that locality for eighty years, and now resides in Chicago.

"Yes, I remember when Springfield was nothing but a mud-hole, when the horses were driven to the court house, unhitched, tied to the back of the wagon and fed there. I lived on a farm not far from town; we knew the people in town and went in to the political meetings. In those days you know, two would talk together each trying to get voters for his side. I heard Lincoln and Douglas stump. Folks said that Douglas was the smartest man but that Lincoln was the shrewdest. Once I heard Douglas say to Lincoln: 'You, sir, used to sell whisky!'"

"When Lincoln got up, this was his answer to that: 'Yes, I did. And while I officiated in one way, you Douglas, did in another; you did the drinking.'

"Douglas was a drinker. They said he made the best speeches when he was under the influence. The day my father introduced him to a little boy who was for Douglas, though the boy's father was strong on the other side. I know he had been drinking.

"This boy's father, Stephen Child—the boy had the same name—was known all around as an abolitionist. The boy, only ten years old, for some reason was not on that side. One the father while at work in the field saw his team being driven by little Stephen out to the road as fast as they could go. He hollered for the boy to bring the horses back but he paid no attention. After awhile Mr. Child saw a gang of boys drive back to the house. They had a pole in their wagon. They took this out and pretty soon began trying to raise it, for a flag-pole, in front of the house. Mr. Child (by the way, he later became my father-in-law) went over and offered to help, although it was a hickory pole. But little Stephen said, 'No, this is a Democrat pole and no Abolitionist shall touch it!'"

"Little Stephen had two cats that he called Douglas and Lincoln. He took fine care of Douglas but he used to beat Lincoln unmercifully. That was a long time ago, but he is still living and still remembers his cats.

"My father was a Democrat. We lived neighbor to the Childs, and one day father took little Stephen to a meeting where Douglas spoke. After the meeting father had the boy shake hands with Douglas, and he introduced him as a 'ten-year-old Democrat son of an Abolitionist.'

"My father-in-law was an awful strong Abolitionist. He sheltered colored people and helped show them the way north. He had a horse named Pomp. They said he would put a colored runaway on the horse, send it off and be pretty sure it would do what was expected of it; would run along steadily, then kick up its heels and throw off its load right at the door of another Abolitionist.

"My father-in-law used to hide the runaways in his cellar, which had no outside door, just a trap-door in the house. Once he had a lot of them there and searchers came along, suspecting him. Mr. Child told them they were welcome to search. They looked all around, but not in the right place. That night he loaded the colored people in the bottom of the wagon, piled on top bags of hay and started out for Salt Creek. On the trip at the side of the road he met a man who asked for a ride. Mr. Child raised his whip and told him to get out of the way, that he didn't want any one to ride and hurt his load. He got the people safely to Salt Creek, there in Logan county, then showed them the way north.

"Yes, I knew Lincoln. I knew Mary Todd, too, slightly. She was haughty. After their marriage it hurt her that He was a great friend to the poor, made more over a ragged boy or girl than any other kind.

"Everyone around Springfield sorrowed when Lincoln was killed. I remember as though it was yesterday his body lying in state there in the state house. And I remember the day my husband and I went to pay our respects that there was the biggest fight on the streets of Springfield that I had ever seen. Colored people had flocked there from all sides, they were present in such numbers they more than filled the sidewalks. There really didn't seem to be any room for any of the white people that wanted to go to the state house. It was shouted that the colored people should go out into the road, not take all the sidewalks. A big fight followed, there was much noise and confusion. But the police finally stopped it. Lincoln lay in state a day and night, an army of people had opportunity to pass along as he lay there with the guards about him."

OF THE SEVENTH GENERATION
Great War President Might Well, if He Had Wished, Boast of His American Ancestors.

So unique is the individuality of Abraham Lincoln that one is naturally surprised to learn that the name has ever been borne by anybody else. As a matter of fact, on the evidence of a recently published genealogical chart of the former president's family, there have been four others. The fifth and famous Abraham was of the seventh generation of Lincolns in the United States. The chart shows that Samuel, son of Edward Lincoln of Hingham, England, was apprenticed to a weaver and mariner, and that he came to America in 1637, living first in Salem and afterward in Hingham, Mass. Thus by about 17 years, if the genealogy is correct, Abraham Lincoln missed being a Mayflower descendant.

BAD COUGH; NIGHT SWEATS; LOST WEIGHT

Mr. Coleman thought his time had come. But he's well now.

"I was taken with a dry, hard cough about 6 months ago. Finally I got so sore across the chest, I could hardly breathe; had night sweats so bad every thing would be wringing wet, and coughed continually until I thought it would kill me. Had no appetite, spent over $100 on doctors and medicines, and was worse off than when I started.
"The first bottle of Milk's Emulsion did me more good than all the $100 spent for other treatment. It soon gave me a good appetite, my cough left me, and I have regained the flesh and strength I had before I was sick."
Arthur Coleman, Box 301, Helena, Ark.
"You need an appetite, a good stomach, some real strength if you want to fight off disease. Give Milk's Emulsion a trial at its maker's risk.
"Milk's Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milk's Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whose sickness has weakened, and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.
"This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream.
"No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milk's Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milk's Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.

STARVING ORPHANS ARE DYING IN SNOW

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 12.—It's bad enough to be an orphan, to live on seven-eighths of an ounce of rice daily—when it can be obtained at all—but, gee! it must be fierce to be forced to wade thru snow in zero weather and to be turned away when one comes to an orphanage conducted by the big, kind Americans.
This is the experience of thousands of Armenian orphans, judging from a special wireless message just received at Oklahoma City, relayed from New York. It reads:
"Following telegram received today by United States naval radio service from Harpout, Turkey: 'Harpout unit now caring for 4,000 orphans. Our children are happy, healthy, clean, well-fed, clothed and housed. Other, wretched, homeless children come daily tramping thru deep snows and bitter cold seeking admission to our orphanage. Some are freezing to death.
"MAY WE TAKE THEM OUT FOR LACK OF FUNDS? REFUGEES IN THE STREETS AND POOR IN OUTLYING VILLAGES ARE SUFFERING PITIFULLY IN ZERO WEATHER AND INDESCRIBABLE RAGS. WE HAVE NO FUNDS TO FEED OR CLOTHE THEM. MEDICINES GREATLY NEEDED."
The message is signed, "Riggs-Arnold." Henry H. Riggs, one of the signers, is president of Euphrates college, Harpout, and head of the Harpout relief unit of the Near East Relief. Major Davis J. Arnold, the other, is managing director of the Near East Relief in that area.

The Near East Relief is to ask Oklahomans to contribute $260,000 to relieve this suffering. The campaign will be conducted from February 15 to 22.

TIME ADDS TO LINCOLN'S FAME

Passing Years Bring Increased Acknowledgment of His Wise Statesmanship.

IN the mere recital of the facts of Lincoln's life there is little to account for his being the only American except Washington whose birthday has been made a national holiday. His origin was English, as he descended from English Quakers who settled in Pennsylvania. His own branch of the family went to Virginia, and thence to Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois. His birthplace, though rude, was not unlike those about him, the one roomed cabin of the Western pioneer, situated in a wild region and with only the rudest necessities.

There was little in his boyhood to mark it out from his fellows save in the thorough use he made of his scanty opportunities for improvement. He possessed only a handful of books—the Bible, "Aesop's Fables," "Pilgrim's Progress," "Robinson Crusoe," the lives of Washington and Henry Clay—but of it, by continual study, he made himself a complete master. Meanwhile the difficulties of his daily life made him strong and vigorous, stimulating a wholesome growth of body and mind. The importance of this foundation of health can hardly be overestimated, in view of the strain he was to bear in later life. That he retained this early vigor is evident from anecdotes of his delight in feats of strength even after he attained the presidency. By means of farm work that in those days included every form of bodily exercise, by a short experience as a country storekeeper, by an almost ridiculous military training, Lincoln saw in essence something of every form of life and saw each form in its barest simplicity. From these crude facts he drew the homely directness of thinking, a readiness in analysis, a simplicity of view and a keenness of humor that unclouded his whole mind. His Early Studies.

There is nothing that gives us a better insight into the origin of his greatness than the story he tells of his early methods of study. Even as a boy, he says, he was accustomed to hear discussed public questions of every sort. The language and rhetoric of his elders was far beyond his comprehension, but with the true pioneer spirit the boy Lincoln, educated to overcome difficulties by his daily life, not tired by a multiplicity of subjects, was never willing to abandon a subject without understanding it. He would, after hearing a knotty debate, go over the whole controversy by himself until he was satisfied that he had extracted from it every root and gist of the matter. This done, Lincoln says, he strove to put into the simplest language what he had learned. In order that it might be within the understanding of any hearer.

Thus it was that he learned to analyze and solve political questions, and, having solved them, to present the matters in such form as to be understood by the simplest of his hearers. In the days when personal supremacy came mainly from the power of oratory or convincing speech there was no surer road to leadership.

Sure to Become a Power. With a mind thus self-trained and kept from the world until manhood, Lincoln was sure to come into prominence as soon as he could in any way secure a public hearing. As Woodrow Wilson puts it, "He had had the instinct of the student in the midst of affairs, and had made himself a master of ideas and of language as an instrument of mastery. He had devised for himself straight thrusts of speech and the use of words that acted always like the application of light." Such a man will ever be put forward as champion by any party to which he lends his services. When, therefore, in the days of controversy between North and South over the great issue of whether the new territories should be slave or free, the Dred Scott decision declared that the people of a territory had no power to keep a slave owner from bringing his "property" into their community, and this became the burning question of the day around which gathered those who were opposed as well as on a dozen other grounds, Lincoln was put forward as the champion of the Free Soil party against Senator Douglas, who upheld the constitutional sanction of slavery. Lincoln's plain way of putting things was evident in his famous declaration, "A house divided against itself cannot stand. I believe this country cannot endure half slave and half free. I do not expect the house to fall, but I do expect it will cease to be divided."

Put Douglas in Dilemma. By a clever set of questions Lincoln put Douglas into a dilemma that required him to lose either his following in Illinois or his following among the southern party. Douglas made his choice, antagonized the South, won the senatorship against Lincoln, but put himself out of the running for the presidency. Then came the insurrection led by John Brown, and the feeling excited by this event still ran high during the next presidential election. Douglas had been forced to stand for the right of the people of a territory to exclude slavery, and thus set himself against the Dred Scott decision permitting slave owners to bring their property into the territories. Upon this question the Democratic party split. The Republicans met in Chicago, and here the Illinois men so ably presented and advocated their new champion, Lincoln, that Seward lost the nomination and Lincoln won it.

In the following election Lincoln succeeded over his rival by a narrow majority, and really represented, so far as votes were concerned, a minority of the nation. Having staked upon this election the whole doctrine of state rights and the extension of slavery, the leading southern states looked upon Lincoln's election as a defiance of the whole course of legislation looking to the upholding of the southern view. Determined on Secession. The war followed, for the South con-aided state rights and slave labor as the foundation of their prosperity and power, especially since the invention of the cotton gin had made, as they phrased it, cotton the king of the world of commerce. Woodrow Wilson points out that in the northern opposition to slavery the South felt a keen sense of injustice. They believed that the worst side of the institution was willfully presented, that its necessities and its better side were willfully suppressed. In the election of Lincoln they saw the beginning of an attempt to dominate them completely. It seemed the outcome of a continual battle against them and their institutions, and they saw no escape except by secession from the Union.

As president, Lincoln disappointed the abolitionists and the more rabid opponents of the South. He waited until he believed that there was armed resistance to the federal laws, but when this crisis came acted promptly and effectively. The long conflict followed and belongs to history. Ever since those days Lincoln's fame has been growing, and the best students agree that his was the broadest statesmanship and the wisest brain of all tested in those troubled times. More and more the country has come to see that he best understood the problems and best solved them. His assassination was a blunder for which the country, both North and South, paid dear. His speeches, his public documents, his state papers, reveal a greater man as they are studied more deeply, and today the leaders of thought, both North and South, pay to his memory due meed of reverence.

THE LESSONS WE FORGET

No people forgive so quickly as the American people, which after all is a mighty good thing. No people forget so quickly as the American people, which sometimes is not a good thing.

Already we have forgotten some of the most valuable lessons taught us by the war. We have forgotten what we suffered from lack of preparedness and have forgotten utterly the vows we registered in the days of peril never to make the same mistakes again. While the tides of war rolled close around us we vowed that never again would we be found without an army and navy sufficiently strong to answer every need. But that vow has become a part of our country's history and no longer challenges the attention of our people.

The determination of the Democrats in congress illustrates the change that has come over the spirit of the nation's dream. It is a significant portent. If universal and compulsory training is the only plan in view, the opposition of the Democrats to that plan is almost sinister. But if the other plans are ready for consideration, the attitude of the Democratic membership has little significance. If would follow then, that they are opposed to that specific plan of military preparedness and not opposed to all preparedness.

Under most circumstances we believe that universal training would be an evil thing. But in the absence of all other programs, it should be accepted no matter how bitter that program may be. The follies of the past must not be repeated. The first fruits of that fool's paradise we lived in prior to our entrance into the war was an era of unexampled profligacy and a hideous feast of death. Blood and treasure was the ghastly price we paid for those long years of pacifism during which it was counted treason to advocate reasonable preparedness for war. The white crosses that look up from the graves of American soldiers are in part the monument of all those stupid years.

War will come again. Of that we may be assured. War has always come. It probably always will. For almost two thousand years Christian nations have taught the wickedness of murder and celebrated the golden dawn of peace, only to see their churches converted into recruiting stations and service flags waving above their choirs. War will live upon this earth so long as sin is long lived and Satan is immortal. War is ten thousand times more imminent today than it was in the Junetime of 1914 when the peace-drugged nations of Christendom stood on the brink of the abyss.

The American people will never consent for this nation to become a Prussianized machine of war. No one desires that our country should be converted into an army training camp and that our youth should be taught the art of destruction in a universal and compulsory way. But at the same time every patriot should demand a reasonable measure of preparation. The mistakes of the past should never be repeated and the public should demand the impossibility of their repetition. We should have a sane and reasonable military policy, and failure to provide such policy would be a crime.

It is said by some near expert that the cost of the Federal government for the present year will be $550.00 for each family in the United States. That is at least a staggering burden. It is discouraging to hear Senator Borah say that the present Republican congress has made absolutely no attempt to reduce the costs of government. It is positively exasperating to hear Senator Borah say that the Republican congress has absolutely no intention of trying to reduce the costs of government. It is the same old political game played without any variation. The Republican leaders hope that the burdens of government will cause the country to go Republican. They fear that the lightening those burdens might injure their campaign chances. For that reason and for that reason alone no effort will be made to reduce the costs of government till after the next election. A policy more contemptible was never adopted or pursued by any political party.

Herbert Hoover is a citizen of California, he attended the University of California, thousands of Californians are his friends, and the Democratic national convention meets in California. Keep your eye on Herbert Hoover.

Take up any copy of the congressional record and read the fiery denunciations of things that are, and you will almost believe that some day congress will get busy and correct the ills it complains of.

HAMON IS ELECTED FOR NATIONAL COMMITTEE MAN

By News' Special Service

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., Feb. 11.—By a vote of 554 to 284 the Republican State convention here today instructed delegates to vote for Jake L. Hamon for national committeeman for Oklahoma. John Embury of Oklahoma City, opposing Hamon for the indorsement, received the low vote. Eight delegates at large with one-half vote each were elected for the national convention. Two presidential electors were chosen. They are Mrs. Abbie Hillerman of Tulsa and J. W. Morris of Snyder. Mrs. Hillerman for more than sixteen years has been president of the State W. C. T. U. organization. James A. Harris of Wagoner was elected chairman of the new State Central Committee and John D. Appleby of Oklahoma City was made secretary.

The delegates at large are Bird S. McGuire, Tulsa; J. E. Dyche, Oklahoma City; Henry Asp, Oklahoma City; W. H. Hills, Enid; J. H. Dillon, Geary; Vernon Whiting, Pawhuska; Alva McDonald, El Reno, and D. H. Malermee, Walters. Dyche is campaign manager for Hamon and Whiting is the retiring State chairman.

The convention went on record as opposing a special session of the Oklahoma Legislature except for the approval of the woman suffrage amendment. The resolution criticized Governor Robertson's pardon and parole policy and referred to his administration as extravagant. The convention expressed itself as against any "entangling alliances" with foreign nations, against internationalism, and in favor of having the taxes reduced by economic government.

Hamon Forces in Control. The forces of Jake Hamon were in control of the convention throughout. B. S. McGuire of Tulsa was selected temporary chairman. Harry Gilstrap of Chandler was made temporary secretary, with Mrs. C. W. Miller of El Reno as assistant. This organization was afterwards made permanent.

No instructions were given the delegates to the national convention. Local headquarters for Lowden for President took some satisfaction in this, for it prevented an instructed delegation for General Wood. At one time it was thought the Oklahoma convention would instruct for General Wood, as the Hamon strength was recognized as leaning in that direction.

The convention was harmonious throughout, with one exception, and this finally amounted to nothing. The credentials committee report gave recognition to one or two county organizations other than had been ratified by the State committee in deciding contests. The chairman started to rush the motion to adopt through but was halted by delegates who opposed the proceeding. The matter was finally settled by striking from the report the part objected to.

Women sat among several county delegations. Mrs. E. B. Rhodes of Delaware County was the first woman to deliver the vote of her delegation, this being for McGuire for temporary chairman. Mrs. L. G. Highsmith of Latimer County was the second.

Telegrams were read to the convention from Congressman Dick T. Morgan and J. W. Harrel of the Eighth and Fifth Oklahoma Districts, respectively.

Chairman Harris of the State committee announced he would immediately begin organization of the Republican forces in the State for the campaign that will open in a few weeks.

Live Stock Sale Is Great Success Say Promoters

The live stock sale promoted by the Pontotoc County's Breeders' Association is on this afternoon, and according to its promoters is a pronounced success. The number of registered animals offered for sale or brought to Ada for exhibition is up to the most sanguine expectation, while the attendance is all that could be desired.

"The finest lot of cattle ever seen in Pontotoc County" was the comment of one of the county's best known breeders. Herefords, Short Horns, Black Polls, Aberdeens, and other favorite breeds are well represented in the aggregation to be seen at the Gregg barn, and many of them would take off blue ribbons at any fair. No better cattle has ever been seen in Ada or elsewhere in this section of the country.

Visitors from many sections of the state are attending the sale. Among these are stockmen from Ardmore, Norman, Purcell, Eufaula and Muskogee. Many of them are here to buy, and express surprise at the unusually fine stock produced in Pontotoc County.

A parade through the business section at the noon hour was a feature of the day. The parade was headed by the Cadet Band from the High School and was a great drawing card for the sale. The auctioneers began the sale promptly at 1 o'clock and it is still on. It is said that the cattle sold is bringing fancy prices.

Fight Is Begun For Property Left by Mrs. New

W. O. New, who claims to be the surviving husband of Mrs. Minnie New, and D. F. Burnside, who claims to be a surviving uncle of Mrs. New, have appeared in county court at Ada, each laying claim to the property left by Mrs. New.

It will be recalled that Mrs. New was fatally burned when her clothing caught fire from a gas stove at the Katy Rooms several weeks ago. At that time she and Burnside were running the Katy Rooms. She lived about a week after receiving her injuries and was buried at Ada.

Soon after the death of Mrs. New Burnside produced a will which Mrs. New bequeathed to him all her property. The will was executed at Duke, Oklahoma before Judd Burnett, a notary public of Jackson County, and is witnessed by Burnett and J. M. Ferguson. This will had not been filed for probate, but is said to have been left in one of the Ada banks.

Yesterday W. O. New appeared on the scene and began proceedings to secure the property of Mrs. New. He claims to live at Edgemont, South Dakota, and says that he is the lawful surviving husband of the deceased woman. He says that he had not lived with Mrs. New for several years but had been in correspondence with her. New also claims that Burnside is not an uncle of Mrs. New that in fact there was no relationship whatever existing between them. New declares that Burnside is the father-in-law of W. T. Hale of Oklahoma City, one of the wealthiest live stock dealers in the Southwest.

Judge Busby has set down for hearing on February 26 the application of New for the appointment of administrator of the property of deceased. Pending the hearing the court has appointed Gale Statler as temporary administrator. Mrs. New is said to have left $1,400 in an Ada bank, furniture at the Katy Rooms valued at $1,600, and real estate in Ohio worth $4,000. New is represented by B. C. King, while C. A. Galbraith and B. H. Epperson are representing Burnside.

Ada is going to "start something" next Tuesday at 9 o'clock.

YE TOWN GOSSIP

WE HAPPENED to be.

GOING PAST.

THE brick yard.

THIS MORNING.

AND A mule.

CAME FROM under a shed.

AND SAW us.

AND HE neighed.

AND CAME running.

TO WHERE we were.

AND HE was.

A PITIFUL sight.

AND HIS sides.

WERE AWFULLY thin.

AND I'll bet.

THAT HE hadn't.

HAD A thing to eat.

FOR OVER A week.

AND HIS skin.

WAS ALL bruised up.

AND HE kept neighing.

AND LOOKING at us.

AND HIS eyes.

WERE WIDE open.

AND I could see.

THAT HE was begging us.

TO STOP.

AND GIVE him.

SOMETHING TO eat.

AND WE drove on.

AND HE followed us.

AS FAR as he could.

AND WHEN he had to stop.

Along THE fence.

HE NEIGHED louder.

AND IT seemed to me.

THAT I could detect.

A NOTE of despair.

IN HIS voice.

AND I looked back.

AND HE still had.

HIS HEAD raised.

AND WAS looking at us.

AND FINALLY.

JUST BEFORE turning.

THE CORNER.

AND GETTING out of sight.

AND HE had turned.

AND WAS walking back.

TO THE shed.

AND HIS head was drooped.

AND HE limped.

AND I could imagine.

HOW HE felt.

AND I don't know.

WHO OWNS him.

IN THE hope.

THAT WHOEVER does.

WILL READ it.

AND WILL go out.

TO THE brickyard.

AND TAKE along.

A BIG pail of oats.

AND OTHER things.

AND GIVE him a feast.

THAT WILL make him forget.

A MONUMENT TO AN ELECTRICIAN

FATHER OF EXPERIMENTAL ELECTRICITY TO BE HONORED WITH A MONUMENT IN ROME

By the Associated Press

Rome, Feb. 11.—Alessandro Volta, the father of experimental electricity, the inventor of the voltaic pile and the man after whom the electric volt was named, is to be honored with a monument in Rome which will probably be unveiled in 1927, the hundredth anniversary of his death.

The movement for the recognition of the services of this pioneer Italian electrician to humanity was launched at a recent dinner of the Italian Alpine Club by Luigi Spada, secretary of the Rome branch of the club.

Volta was a native of Como and won fame as a professor of physics, both at Como and Padua. Although he made many discoveries and inventions in electricity his voltaic pile is the one upon which his fame rests chiefly.

Napoleon I, the Emperor of Austria and the British Royal Society awarded him medals and in him to demonstrate the pile, which was a series of discs of dissimilar metal, such as copper and zinc, laid up with discs of cloth or paper.

between them maintained with acid water, for the production of electricity. Upon this discovery the telephone, telegraph, electric lighting, heating and electric power development of all sorts are based.

A small marble tablet is the only memorial which Volta has. On the monument to be erected to his memory it is proposed to engrave the names of Galvani, Pacinotti, Meucci, G. Ferraris and Marconi, all illustrious Italians who have contributed notably to the development of the principles discovered by Volta.

Antonio Meucci was from Florence and lived in America with General Garibaldi, on State Island, where they supported themselves in poverty by making candles. In discussing Meucci's service to the world, Signor Spada said: "Meucci invented the telephone." Recounting the other important electrical discoveries of Italians, he continued: "Antonio Pacinotti, of Pisa, in 1864 discovered the electrical ring which is the principle of the dynamo developed by Gramme, the Belgian who appropriated Pacinotti's discovery."

He declared that Italians invented the barometer, the pendulum, the telescope, and that the submarine, airplane and asphyxiating gases were in embryo set forth in the writings of Leonardo. Signor Spada urged that Italians arouse themselves and develop the discoveries of their own scientists in a broad commercial way.

They couldn't be built now for twice $71,000

When the talk turns from politics to railroads, and the traveler with the cocksure air breaks in with, "There's an awful lot of 'water' in the railroads," here are some hard-pan facts to give him:

American railroads have cost $80,900 a mile—road-bed, structures, stations, yards, terminals, freight and passenger trains—everything from the great city terminals to the last spike.

A good concrete-and-asphalt highway costs $36,000 a mile—just a bare road, not counting the cost of culverts, bridges, etc.

Our railroads couldn't be duplicated today for $150,000 a mile.

They are capitalized for only $71,000 a mile—much less than their actual value. Seventy-one thousand dollars today will buy one locomotive.

English railways are capitalized at $274,000 a mile; the French at $155,000; German $132,000; even in Canada (still in pioneer development) they are capitalized at $67,000 a mile. The average for all foreign countries is $100,000.

Low capitalization and high operating efficiency have enabled American railroads to pay the highest wages while charging the lowest rates.

All of the above said lots, blocks and tracts of land being within the corporate limits of the city of Ada, Pontotoc County, Oklahoma, together with the necessary lines across streets, avenues and alleys and such connections with the water mains in said city of Ada, Oklahoma, as shown by the plans prepared for such sanitary sewer districts, same being fully described and defined in Ordinance Nos. 433, 434 and 435 creating Sewer Districts Nos. 8, 9 and 10 respectively, passed by the Board of Commissioners on the 25th day of November, 1919, and approved by the Mayor and Commissioner of Public Justice and Safety, and attested by the City Clerk and Commissioner of Accounting and Finance on the 25th day of November 1919, and in the plans, profiles and specifications prepared by Johnson & Benham, Consulting Engineers, Kansas City, Mo., said plans, specifications and estimates being adopted by the Board of Commissioners and now on file in the office of the City Clerk and Commissioner of Accounting and Finance.

Bids must be made out on proposal sheets to be furnished by the City. Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check in amount of Two Hundred Dollars ($200.00) for Sewer District No. 8, Five Hundred Dollars, ($500.00) for Sewer District No. 9 and Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00) for Sewer District No. 10, as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder. The successful bidder or bidders will be required to furnish surety construction bond in approximately the full amount of the contract conditioned

CHAMPION KILBANE WILL GET REAL TEST WHEN HE TACKLES SPEEDY BENNY VALGER

Johnny Kilbane in action, and Benny Valger.

Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, will go into the most important battle he has entered since he met George Chaney on Labor day, 1916, when he tackled Benny Valger at Newark, Feb. 16. Valger is called by many critics the pick of the featherweights, exclusive of the champ. Valger has repeatedly declared Kilbane is leary of meeting him. Kilbane cannot lose his title in the bout, as Valger will not make 122 pounds. A point or knockout victory for Valger will indicate that Johnny is getting old and losing his grip on the title. It is fact that Valger refused to make 122 pounds (which would have given him a technical chance at the title) indicates that he isn't a legitimate featherweight, but he is considered one of the featherweights.

for the full and faithful performance by him or them of all the covenants and agreements made in his or their contract, and on the fulfillment by him of all terms and conditions of the plans and specifications.

The successful bidder or bidders will be required to furnish surety bonds in amounts of Four Hundred Dollars ($400.00), One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.00) and One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.00) for Sewer Districts Nos. 8, 9 and 10 respectively, conditioned for the maintenance by him or them in good repair of all work done under the contract. Said bonds shall be dated when the contracts have been completed and accepted and shall be in force and effect for a period of six (6) months from that date.

All bids will be opened and considered by the Board of Commissioners at a meeting to be held at 3:00 p. m. on the 17th day of February, 1920, and the contract will be awarded to the lowest and best bidder, providing said bids are below the estimate of the Engineer as soon thereafter as required by the City Charter, the Board of Commissioners reserving the right to reject any and all bids and to re-advertise for bids in case none of the bids received are satisfactory.

Each bidder shall accompany his bid with a sworn statement as required by Section 1, Article IX, of the Charter of the City of Ada, Oklahoma.

All bids are required to be placed on file in the office of the City Clerk for inspection for two (2) days after opening before award or rejection of bids can be made.

Any and all parties interested are hereby notified that they may appear and protest against or object to said improvements or any part thereof or any matter or thing in relation thereto at said meeting of the Board of Commissioners on the 17th day of February, 1920, and protests must be made on each district separately.

Plans and specifications are on file in the office of the City Clerk and Commissioner of Accounting and Finance of the City of Ada, Oklahoma, and can be procured upon payment of Ten Dollars ($10) at the office of Johnson & Benham, Consulting Engineers, 8th Floor Firestone Building, Kansas City, Mo. Upon the return in good condition of all plans and specifications a refund of Five Dollars ($5.00) will be made.

Signed this 29th day of January, 1920.

ver, Colo., Mrs. Florence Kelly of New York, of the Consumers' league Miss Sophonisba Breckinridge of the University of Chicago, the Rev. Caroline Bartlett Crane of Kalamazoo, Mich., Gov. Henry J. Allen of Kansas, Miss Mary Bartelme of Chicago, Miss Mary Anderson of Washington, D. C., chief of the U. S. Women in Industry bureau; Mrs. Charles H. Brooks, president of the Kansas Equal Suffrage Association, and many others.

Preliminary to making plans for the new League of Women Voters, formed at the last annual convention in anticipation of the time when the national suffrage body shall no longer have any reason for existence because of the expected early ratification of the federal suffrage amendment by two-thirds of the states of the union, tomorrow's session will be devoted to the discussion of the following points:

1. Shall the National American Woman Suffrage association dissolve when the last task concerning the extension of suffrage to women is completed?
2. Shall it recommend its members to join the League of Women Voters?
3. Shall this be the last suffrage convention held under the auspices of the National American Woman Suffrage association? If not, when shall the next be called?

4. If this is to be the last convention, shall a board of officers be elected at this convention to serve until all tasks are completed? If this is done, to whom shall such a board render its final report and by whom shall it be officially discharged?

5. If dissolution is determined upon, what disposition shall be made of (a) the files of data; (b) the property; (c) funds if any remain?

6. In the event that the National American Woman Suffrage association shall be dissolved, what agency shall become the auxiliary of the International Woman Suffrage alliance.

7. What plan for the intensive education of new women voters is possible, and shall it be recommended that the League of Women Voters take up this work, or shall it be conducted under the National American Woman Suffrage association.

There is no doubt in the minds of all national officers that it will be decided to dissolve the suffrage body and let all logical activities of enfranchised women be continued through the new League of Women Voters, and plans are being made accordingly.

One of the interesting features of the convention is the fact that many of the more prominent suffragists who are present as delegates or visitors are also prominent in the country's politics.

Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout, president of the Illinois Equal Suffrage association, is chairman of local arrangements. Headquarters of the convention are at the Congress hotel. There are to be many brilliant social functions during the convention.

CHICAGO, Feb. 12.—A conference preliminary to the 51st annual convention of the national women's suffrage association began today and will continue until the convention ends next Wednesday. Prospects were that the association will be abandoned to give place to a new organization under the name of the "League of Women Voters." This suffrage leaders said, probably will be contingent upon ratification of the national women's suffrage amendment by 36 states expected before the convention adjourned.

Suffrage leaders estimated 2,000 delegates and their alternate representatives and 2,000,000 members of suffrage organization in every state would be represented at the convention.

SOCIETY GIRL TAKES "IRE" OUT OF "VAMPIRE" AND WINS A STRONG? MINDED BROKER

Constance Talmadge, as Lady Gwendolyn Diana Beaufort Armitage, alias Nellie Jones, becomes "A Virtuous Vamp"

The disadvantage of having a tender heart is made plain to a score of New York boys when Nellie Jones, pretty stenographer in the office of James Crowninshield, smiles her captivating smile at them and then leaves them with only vague memories of what might have been. This is the plight of the lovelorn youths in a "A Virtuous Vamp," starring Constance Talmadge and which will be seen at the Liberty Theatre today.

Missourian Deeds 120 Acres of Land To "Jesus Christ"

By the Associated Press
MOBERLY, Mo., Feb. 11.—A deed of trust, turning over to Jesus Christ 120-acres of Randolph County land near here, has been found in the Randolph County Courthouse. It was made 70 years ago by Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Wright, who were said to have been very pious.

After the couple's death, their descendants continued to live on the land and have never contested the instrument. In part, it follows:

"This indenture, made and entered into this 6th day of June, A. D. one thousand and eight hundred and fifty, between Johnson Wright and Eliza Jane, his wife, of the County of Randolph, State of Missouri, of the first part, and the government of the chief administrator, King of Righteousness, the Son, the Fountain of Life, to the General Assembly and church of the first born which are written in heaven, and to God the judge of all, and Jesus, mediator of the new covenant, and to the blood of sprinkling that speaketh better things than that of Abel, because he died for us—"

Continuing, the deed describes the tract.

The picture is interpreted musically by the American Theater Orchestra which makes it very impressive. You will be delighted with today's program.

At the Liberty
It is not a question of whether you want to go to the Liberty tonight or not, but the question that should bother you is, "Will I be able to get a seat?" Tonight will be seen Constance Talmadge, in the "Virtuous Vamp." This is the Liberty's very best. The Virginia Beauties are still on the program and are pleasing record breaking audiences every night. Good singing and dancing and the very best comedians on the road. $30,000 IS OFFERED FOR 100 ACRES OF DENISON OIL LAND

Denison, Tex., Feb. 12.—Thirty thousand dollars was an offer made yesterday afternoon for 100 acres of land offsetting the Peter Oil and Gas Company's No. 1 well east of Denison, according to Mayor Coleman. There are just 100 acres in a tract of land offsetting this well that was wanted badly by a man or party of men and an offer of 300 per acre was made and refused.

This is a record price for acreage around Denison and also a record price offered in a wildcat field where no known oil has been found. While everything is very quiet now in the oil prospecting game about Denison, it is believed that many companies have men in this district on still hunts and when spring arrives the activities will be much greater than one can now realize.
